JAY THAKKAR
Actor

Stealing scenes in Bhool Chuk Maaf

In his latest theatrical release, Bhool Chuk Maaf, Jay plays Sushil—a charismatic, romantic Banarasi boy who happens to be Rajkumar Rao's sister's boyfriend. "He's jolly, he's loud, he's loveable, and he brings a lot of comic relief. But he's not just a funny guy—there are emotions, swag, and even some Salman Khan-style charm packed into him."

Sharing screen space with the likes of Rajkumar Rao, Wamiqa Gabbi, Sanjay Mishra, and Seema Pahwa, Jay describes the experience as "a masterclass in acting." "Everyone brought their A-game, and that energy was infectious."

A complete 180 in Kapkapiiii

If Bhool Chuk Maaf showcases Jay's comedic flair, Kapkapiiii reveals his softer, more earnest side. He plays a 19-year-old chaluwala with dreams of becoming the Prime Minister. "He's innocent but wildly ambitious. His heart is in the right place, and he's always thinking big. It was refreshing to play someone so full of hope."

With a Gujarati twist, a signature catchphrase — "Bhaailo!" — and memorable interactions with Shreyas Talpade and Tusshar Kapoor, Jay says the film gave him "the space to play and experiment".

Stepping into the shadows in Adrishyam

One of Jay's most challenging roles came in the form of a psychopathic terrorist in Sony LIV's Adrishyam, where he starred opposite Divyanka Tripathi. "It was intense. My character, Mazumil, was emotionally detached and disturbingly calm in the face of chaos. He didn't speak much, but every silence was loaded & every dialogue or action was extensively disturbing. I had to dig deep to tap into that kind of psychology."

His performance earned praise on set for its commitment and chilling realism. "Playing someone so detached from morality—so inhuman—was a psychological challenge. But it reminded me why I love this craft."

Words of wisdom for aspiring actors

Having grown up in the industry, Jay is quick to acknowledge the highs and lows that come with it. His advice? "Stay hungry. Stay patient. And don't be afraid of rejection. Every 'no' is just a stepping stone to the next opportunity."

He also emphasizes the importance of boundaries. "In the early stages, say yes to different kinds of work—but know your worth. Don't let anyone exploit your hunger."

And perhaps most importantly: "Discomfort is the price of growth. If you're feeling uncomfortable, it probably means you're evolving."

Choosing stories that resonate

From Bollywood features like Ram Setu & Dream Girl to high-impact upcoming movies & past web series, Jay is intentional about the roles he chooses. "I audition a lot, and when I do, I give it everything. I research, I prep, I try to make the character as authentic as possible. I feel like sometimes the universe chooses me more than the other way around."

While he enjoys the reach & the organic qualitative approach towards acting of theatrical films, he values the creative freedom that web series offer. "You get to live the character longer. You get time to build layers."

"In television, there's a performative quality—you shoot in volume. In films, it's precision and nuance. Ad films are all about micro-expressions. So, the approach has to change accordingly," he explains. "Today, I consider myself a director's actor. I align with their vision, but I also like to bring something of my own—whether it's a backstory, a gesture, or a trait that makes the character real."

Having worked with directors like Shreyansh Pandey, Karan Sharma, and Sangeeth Sivan, Jay credits these experiences with helping him hone a more naturalistic, grounded acting style. "We need more actors who move audiences with authenticity—not just those who rely on privilege."

The rise of a versatile performer

Jay's recent work across web series like Laakhon Mein Ek, UP65, Ek Dujay Ke Vastav-2 and Gullak 4 showcases his range and commitment to detail. Whether it's the deadpan humor of Bakri, the eccentricity of Mohit Maharaj Bro, or the layered charm of Suryanarayana from Gullak Season-4, Jay immerses himself deeply in each role. "For UP65, I actually spent time with local Banarasi paanwalas and drivers to nail the dialect," he shares. "In Laakhon Mein Ek, I learned the beauty of restraint—how less can be more. These shows challenged me and shaped me."

What's next for Jay Thakkar?

With two feature films set to release in May and multiple projects in the pipeline, Jay is optimistic about the next chapter. "I'm looking for roles that challenge me. I'm drawn to morally grey characters—flawed people with real, complex emotions. I don't want to be perfect. I want to be real."

Citing performances like Vijay Varma's in Dahaad as inspiration, Jay says, "That kind of internal, layered intensity—that's what I want to explore. I'm chasing truth, not perfection."

As Jay Thakkar steps into the next phase of his career, one thing is clear: his passion remains as fresh as the day he started. And that's exactly what makes him one to watch.

COVER STORIES

TWO DECADES IN MOTION:
JAY THAKKAR AND THE RHYTHM OF RELENTLESS AMBITION.

-BY SHRINIWAS KODAPE

Official Website

HE ISN'T BEING EDGY. HE'S BEING FACTUAL. SINCE HE WAS A KID, JAY HAS BEEN GRINDING. 500+ AD FILMS, 15+ FEATURES, 50+ TV SHOWS, AND 10+ WEB SERIES—AN ARSENAL OF WORK SO VAST YOU'D THINK HE CLONED HIMSELF. REMEMBER CHEEKU IN GUTUR GU? BUNTY MIYAAN IN EK DUJE KE VAASTE 2? THAT SILENT, LAYERED VILLAIN IN ADRISHYAM? HE DOESN'T JUST PLAY ROLES—HE MUTATES, MORPHS, BECOMES. FROM THE HEARTLAND VIBE OF UP65 TO THE PSYCHOPATHIC SHADOWS OF MAUKA-E-VARDAAT, JAY DOESN'T FIND HIS CHARACTERS. HE HUNTS THEM.

BUT HERE'S WHERE IT GETS FREAKY—IN THE BEST WAY. HE'S ALSO A WATCHER. A CHRONIC OBSERVER. HE LOVES THE SMELL OF EDIT ROOMS. THE LIGHTING SETUPS. THE LENS CHOICES. JAY DOESN'T JUST ACT IN A SCENE—HE REVERSE-ENGINEERS IT WHILE DOING CALISTHENICS IN HIS HEAD. HE'S AS MUCH A STUDENT OF THE FRAME AS HE IS OF THE FIRE WITHIN IT. FITNESS? JAY CHECKS THAT BOX WITH TAEKWONDO, KARATE, CROSSFIT, AND SOME OTHER FORMS YOU PROBABLY CAN'T PRONOUNCE. SPIRITUALLY? THE GUY MEDITATES. SERVES. RESETS.

BUT DON'T MISTAKE THAT ZEN FOR SOFTNESS. HIS MANTRA IS BRUTAL IN ITS PRECISION: "HONESTY SAVES EVERYONE'S TIME." AND THAT HONESTY BLEEDS INTO EVERY SCENE, EVERY SILENCE, EVERY ROLE. YOU ASK HIM ABOUT SOCIAL MEDIA, AND HE LAUGHS—NOT WITH DISDAIN, BUT WITH CLARITY. "VISIBILITY IS TEMPTING," HE ADMITS. "BUT I'VE NEVER CONFUSED BEING SEEN WITH BEING REAL. MY PATH'S NEVER BEEN FOR SALE." IN A WORLD THAT CELEBRATES CHAOS DISGUISED AS CREATIVITY, JAY THAKKAR IS SURGICAL. EVERY ROLE HE CHOOSES, EVERY PAUSE HE TAKES—IT'S ALL PLANNED.

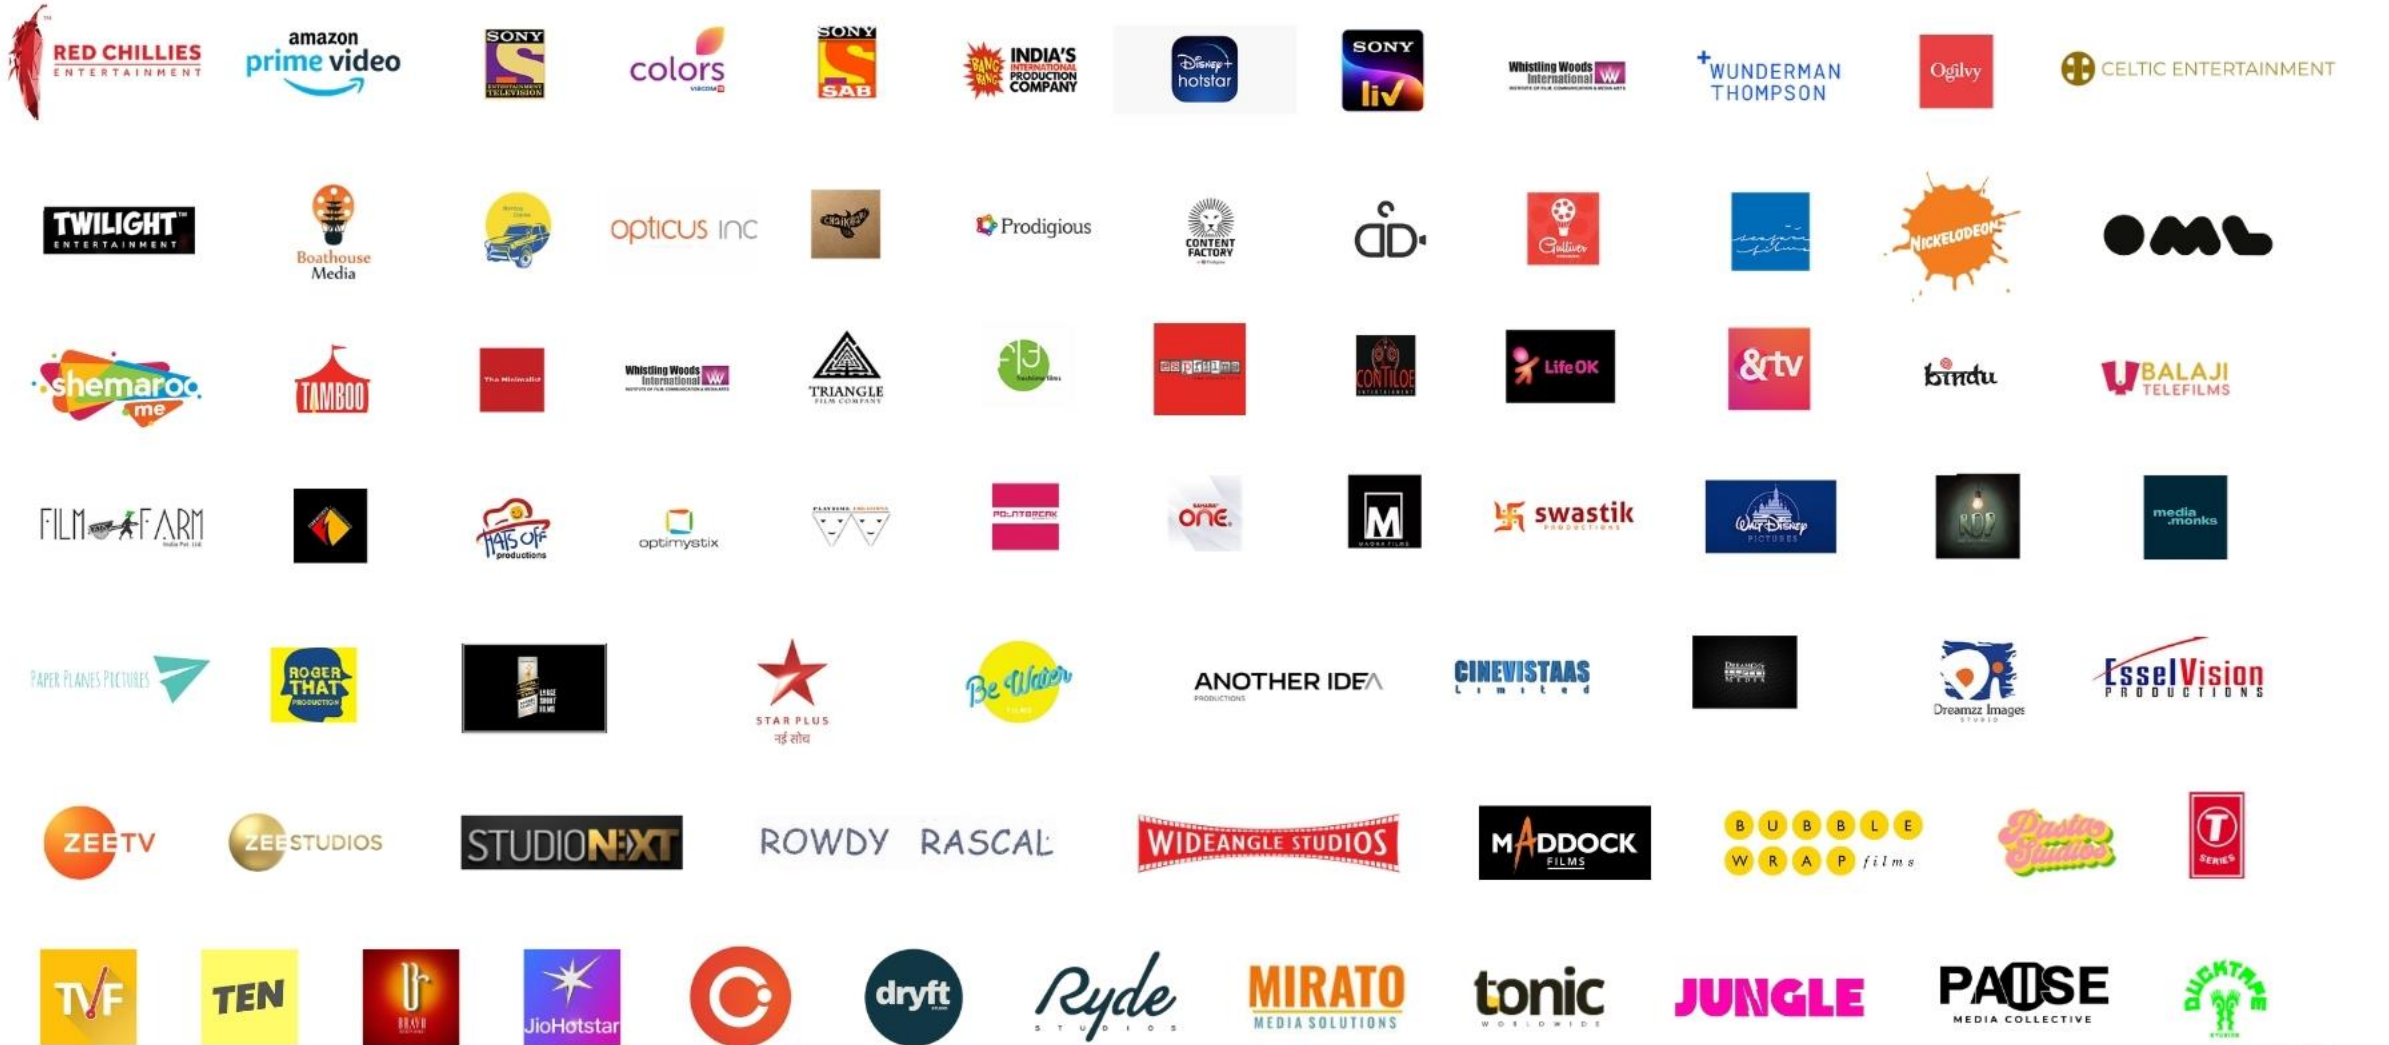

THIS ISN'T A MAN RIDING THE WAVE. HE'S CHARTING THE CURRENT. Legacy? He's building one. Not through gimmicks or "comebacks," but through consistency. Rodina, the Hollywood–Russian film? He starred in that. International, local, silent, loud—he's done it all, and he's not slowing down. Jay isn't trending. He's rooted. He isn't performing for applause. He's performing because he must. "Cinema is my school, my temple, my home," he says. "It's where I become." No dramatics. Just the truth. Just the work. Just Jay.

Two decades down the line, and the man's just now firing up the engine!
